DYT INTRODUCES WORLD'S LARGEST PURPOSE-BUILT SEMI-SUBMERSIBLE VESSEL – YACHT SERVANT

Delivering your boat from the U.S. or Med might sound fun – once. But more and more owners on both sides of the Atlantic are saving both time and wear and tear by giving their vessels a ride to the Caribbean. DYT Superyacht Transport, one of several companies that offer this route, took delivery in January of its new purpose-built semi-submersible, Yacht Servant. The heavy-lift vessel will operate on the same routes as the company's Yacht Express, including departures from Fort Lauderdale, FL, USA as well as Palma de Mallorca, Spain and Genoa, Italy, to both St. Thomas, USVI and Le Marin, Martinique. Yacht Servant will arrive in the Caribbean in May to begin its regular schedule.

"Cradle lashing systems approved by Lloyd's Register, sophisticated software onboard like OCTOPUS (Marine advisory system) from ABB, Scrubbers (exhaust gasses cleaning system), a Trolley mooring system, and hull design optimized for high performance and low fuel consumption are some of the unique features of Yacht Servant that owners will appreciate," says Laurien Hoving, in marketing and communications for DYT headquartered in Amsterdam, The Netherlands.

With an LOA of 701-feet, a 150-foot beam and a 15-foot draft, Yacht Servant provides virtually double the capacity than her predecessors. The IMO Tier-III compliant vessel is also 32% more fuel-efficient, while her nearly 69,000-square-foot of deck space – 30% larger than her sistership Yacht Express – facilitates the transport of more vessels per crossing, including deep draft sailing yachts. What's more, Yacht Servant only requires an operating water depth of 29-foot using a unique float-on, float-off system that is widely considered to be the safest and most efficient in the world. Lastly, the vessel's new specialized deck located behind the bridge, which is built to accommodate tenders, containers and small race boats, also opens a new world of convenience and flexibility for owners. www.yacht-transport.com

BVI YACHT SALES SPONSORS ANTIGUA SAILING WEEK, EXPANDS THROUGHOUT CARIBBEAN

The more the merrier when it comes to boats in the Caribbean and regional participation in regattas. That's one reason why BVI Yacht Sales, one of the leading Caribbean yacht brokerages, is signing on as a sponsor for this year's Antigua Sailing Week (ASW).

"Facilitation of yacht ownership in the Caribbean is an important strategy in maintaining sailing event relevance and increasing the pool of participants for regattas," says Rana

PETTIT MARINE PAINT OFFERS EXCELLENT ALTERNATIVE TO SILICONE SEALANTS

Global supply chain disruptions are making headline news. One of the items affected and continues facing a serious shortage for another 12 to 18 months, is the raw material used for producing silicone sealants. This forces a search for alternatives. The good news is that the entire AnchorTech line of adhesives and sealants Pettit Marine Paints provides improved technology and value than traditional silicones. Better yet, these are available at marine retailers throughout the Caribbean, and if not in stock, can be brought in quickly to meet boater's needs.

"We offer three products that are specially formulated for the marine industry and avoid the many raw materials found in silicones," says Tom Maellaro, marketing vice president for Modern Recreational Technologies, of which Rockaway, NJ-headquartered Pettit Marine Paint is a division.

AnchorTech Premium Fast Dry Adhesive Sealant, UV Resistant Adhesive Sealant and Advanced Hybrid Sealant are paintable, and all provide permanent adhesion to fiberglass, plastic, wood, teak, aluminum, steel, boat hardware and other substrates. The Premium has superior 'green strength' meaning it exhibits instant grab-and-hold characteristics. The UV Resistant won't shrink, crack, yellow or crumble, and once cured, the Advanced Hybrid sealant is mold and mildew resistant. www.pettitpaint.com

Jamila-Lewis, Manager of ASW. "Having the sponsorship of BVI Yacht Sales helps raise the visibility of the event to a regional audience who are definitely interested in sailing, which makes for a smooth transition to racing and chasing."

BVI Yacht Sales, headquartered at Nanny Cay Marina, in Tortola, BVI, has, for more than the past decade, consistently sold more boats around the Caribbean than any other brokerage based on soldboats.com data according to the company.

"With our new ownership settling in after the long recovery period following Hurricane Irma and then the COVID pandemic, we are finally able to proceed with plans to offer a greater level of service to the other major yachting hubs in the region such as Antigua & Barbuda and Grenada, which are popular with private yacht owners who use their boats themselves," says Brian Duff, managing partner. "Our clients are generally owners of sailing yachts 40- to 70-foot in length and using their boats for a portion of the year each season. Having agents in many islands full time will enable us to offer a more personal service with a better 'on the ground knowledge' of the ins and outs of each region than ever before. We are, after all, 'the informative brokers!'"

BVI Yacht Sales representatives in the BVI are Chesnee Cog-

swell, Bob Carson and Liz Bay; in St. Thomas, Ocean Petersen; in Antigua & Barbuda, Bernard Evan-Wong; and in Grenada Glen Nuttall. Duff roams between islands and Puerto Rico as well. bviyachtsales.com

GOWRIE GROUP EXTENDS HEALTH INSURANCE TO SHORE-BASED VIPCA MEMBERS

Yacht crew members of the Virgin Islands Professional Charter Association (VIPCA) have long been able to get health insurance from The Gowrie Group. On February 1, 2022, VIPCA announced that this leading marine insurance agency will extend coverage opportunities to shore-based active VIPCA members as well.

"The VIPCA Crew Medical Program has been such a large success, that the shore-based membership has asked to be included in the group association health plan for the year too. The U.S. Virgin Islands does not offer individual health plans and small group policies are extremely pricey and hard for a group to access. Working with CIGNA and VIPCA, plus understanding the needs of health insurance in the territory, Gowrie has been able to secure affordable health insurance to the shore-based vendors and businesses that are part of the active VIPCA membership," says Rick Bagnall, Senior Vice President, Gowrie Group, Division of Risk Strategies.

Highlights of Gowrie's insurance plan for shore-based VIPCA members include worldwide coverage, coverage in the U.S.

CIGNA National network, two plans to choose from with varying deductibles, up to $5,000,000 per Policy Year limit, and monthly credit cards or EFT payments. vipca.org, www.gowrie.com

WAYPOINTS YACHT CHARTERS EXPANDS TO ST. THOMAS, USVI WITH ACQUISITION OF CYOA

Now it's even easier for guests to take a sailing vacation. Waypoints Yacht Charters, based in Annapolis, MD, has acquired CYOA Yacht Charters in St. Thomas, USVI and taken over its base in Frenchtown, located on the west side of Charlotte Amalie harbor. With the addition of a St. Thomas base, Waypoint can now offer charter guests and yacht owners alike easy access and direct flights from many U.S. cities, a central location for chartering throughout the U.S., British, and Spanish Virgin Islands, and the modern conveniences and infrastructure of a U.S. territory.

Waypoint's St. Thomas charter fleet consists of 20 vessels, both sailing catamarans and monohulls, from 38- to 53-feet and is available for bareboat and crewed charters. Officials say the company will add to its fleet next year.

This latest acquisition follows Waypoints Yacht Charters' recent opening of its British Virgin Islands base location in November of 2021, located at Nanny Cay on Tortola. Earlier in 2021, the company also acquired Sailing Florida Charters & Sailing School, an established charter company operating in St. Petersburg, Florida out of the Vinoy Marina. These locations joined the existing Waypoints Yacht Charters Annapolis base. waypoints.com

FUNDING HELPS ST. MAARTEN YACHT CLUB INCREASE FLEET BY 11 TO INCREASE LOCAL SAILING PARTICIPATION

A Progress Ceremony at the St. Maarten Yacht Club's (SMYC) Sailing School in January recognized the success of four months of free sailing classes offered to 24 students from two local primary schools. It was also the perfect time to introduce sailors, their parents and SMYC members to the 11 new additions to the fleet. Six of these are RS Zests, which are replacing the Club's Laser Pico Fleet, and 5 are SailQubes, purchased to add to the Optimist Fleet. Funds to purchase the boats came via R4CR (Resources 4 Community Resilience, a program implemented by VNG International, funded by the World Bank Trust Fund for St. Maarten, and created to assist the island in the aftermath of 2017's hurricanes.

"RS Zests are very functional boats for use in sailing classes. They can be sailed by children on their own or together, using the jib, but can be sailed by adults as well. Even an instructor can take a few smaller children in the boat with them to instruct. The SailQubes are very functional for the younger and beginning Optimist Sailors. The boats are easy to maintain and because they are self-bailing, the kids don't have to bail out their boat after capsizing," explains Saskia Revelman, the SMYC's sailing school manager and sailing instructor.

These new boats will enable the SMYC to continue growing its Primary School Sailing Program, allowing for more local youth to be introduced to sailing and the marine industry. www.smyc.com

MARINEMAX VACATIONS CELEBRATES 10 YEARS

Along the way, the company has also enjoyed star partnerships with Sports Illustrated and the famous game show, The Wheel of Fortune.

"Ten years have gone quickly but not without creating some amazing memories for our many loyal and enthusiastic guests and charter yacht owners. Born from our commitment to expand our client's boating lifestyle, the MarineMax Vacations division has and continues to offer new and unique boating opportunities in the British Virgin Islands. BOAT MAINTENANCE: PRE- & POST-COVID

CRUISING BY CAP'N FATTY GOODLANDER

Here's the bad news—most unsuccessful ocean passages fail at the dock, long before the vessel goes to sea. Here's the good news—while it is difficult to get your vessel in shipshape and Bristol-fashion to begin a circumnavigation, it is relatively easy to keep it seaworthy as you cruise.

Why?

One, because you're highly motivated.

Not only does the success of the cruise depend largely on the seaworthiness of your vessel, but your very life (and even more importantly, the lives of your crew) may hang in the balance as well.

Two, because there's an immediate cause and effect. Nothing motivates me more to attempt a complicated electric repair on my autopilot—than steering for four hours straight.

Three, you should have all the tools and spares you need. If you don't, fire your ship's husband. (That would be you, dude!)

We usually begin our circs by leaving from St. John, USVI, for the Panama Canal after gradually increasing our local cruising from seldom to often.

Regardless of how well I think I have prepared Ganesh, there are always a few last-minute problems that crop up. Often these problems are related to new gear recently installed and/or changes I've just made to my rig. Thus, we don't just clear out and leave—we sneak up on it. We clear out and anchor that night in Brewer's Bay. Then we lollygag in Culebra. And finally, we spend a few days (or weeks) in Vieques.

This allows me to work leisurely and without pressure on the boat. This allows both of us to 'get our heads' into the voyage and out of the Rachel Maddow show. And, importantly, I pick worse (rollier) anchorages each time to allow my wife's stomach to adjust to ocean sailing.

Note: This isn't merely how we did it, say, two years into our cruising life together as a couple—but how we continue to do it in our 52nd year of being sailing lovebirds. We wait until we're totally 'unfrazzled' from the effects of mingling with dirt-dwellers and are both eager to sail into Mother Ocean's warm embrace once again.

Regardless, there's always plenty to do in the Panama Canal Zone. Transiting is a busy time—especially for us because we anchor out and don't use an agent. (The marina says this isn't possible—we've been doing it for decades.) This saves us between $1,000 and $4,000 dollars, a considerable sum. (Carolyn, thankfully, considers negotiating with officials a challenge; I consider it an ordeal.)

While we stopped in the Galapagos during our first two circs, they've now priced themselves out of our budget. The last two circs we sailed directly to French Polynesia. Depending on how fickle the doldrums are between Panama and the Galapagos, this has taken us 32 days to Fatu Hiva and 48 days the second time nonstop to Tahiti.

Of course, since this is the longest mandatory passage of most circs, we want to be well prepared. But the Tradewind conditions on this milk run can be so agreeable, we often do complicated electrical projects on the boat to stay amused.

In fact, it was on this run that we once went twelve days and 1600 nautical miles without touching anything—not a sheet, not the self-steering gear; absolutely nothing until I turned towards Makemo in the Tuamotus.

Getting ready to transit Panama Canal

By this point, of course, our vessel is fairly together as an off-shore machine and it is easy to keep it that way while wandering westward into the setting sun.

Once we arrive in Tonga, however, it is a different story. We have to switch mental gears. We've just spent over half a year in some of the most benign cruising grounds on the planet but we're about to head down to stormy New Zealand. The question isn't whether you'll get wacked by a gale—but how many. (We've done this passage 12 times—once enduring three gales in two weeks.)

Thus, we re-bed our chainplates and ports and work for a week or so making sure our vessel is as watertight as possible. Don't forget—your entire hull gets highly torqued and savagely twisted during real weather. Many newbie sailors are totally shocked by how wet their interior and electronics got as they wearily and soggily arrive in New Zealand.

We love the Kiwis, and since we've just sailed a fair amount, we usually tie to the pile moorings in Whangarei and party with the infamous Dock Pickers—a floating, guitar-heavy musical group of sea gypsies we hang with while in the area.

Here's the crazy part of boat maintenance—your vessel requires extra maintenance if you sail it hard, and extra maintenance if you don't. Thus, we spend a couple of weeks in Opuia in May, getting ready for the passage north to New Caledonia or Fiji. (Fiji is fun. An elderly resident told me that his cannibal relatives told him that Christian missionaries were the best—evidently, they have a layer of fat that makes them especially tasty.)

We love Vanuatu as well—Tanna especially—and, of course, all the thousands of isles that make up Indonesia.

Fatty hoists the Q flag

We usually spend a year or two in Indonesia, Singapore, Malaysia, and Thailand—in 'the land beneath the wind' as the Arab traders once called it.

While we use our vessel continuously during this time, these are all light-air venues. Here again, we have to refocus before we leave, as the Indian Ocean can be the roughest in the world. (During our last Indian Ocean passage, the Trades blew gale-force EVERY SINGLE AFTERNOON between Cocos Keeling and distant Rodrigues!)

Ducking around the Cape of Storms (aka the Cape of Good Hope) is always fun. Then the South Atlantic is a cakewalk back home to the Caribbean. (Once while hiding out from weather in Durban, South Africa, during a Sou-westerly Buster, the seas outside were reported to be over 60 feet!!!!)

But COVID has completely screwed the annual rhythms of our fourth circ—if not the rest of our cruising lives. We've been in Singapore for over two years now—that longest span of our marriage without sailing offshore. Money is tight, my morals are loose, and I don't think there is any reason to haul out when we're not going anywhere soon. So, for the first time in my adult life, I have to admit that my vessel is in disrepair. Yes, I hang my head in shame.

Of course, 'crappy' is subjective and I've never wasted money on such frills as topside wax. But all the antifouling paint and boot top epoxy are now flaking off our hull—yeeck!

Since we're directly under the equator, it is hot, humid, and continuously moist here. Thus our white decks, white hard dodger, blue sail covers, and blue headsail suncovers are all green with thick, sludgy mildew. (The local boats use warm, soapy, high-pressure, portable washing devices that require hundreds of gallons of freshwater... But we're broke on a mooring, not at a dock. And we don't have one, boo hoo!)

Yes, we're 'hard aground on our own coffee grounds' as the saying goes. Worse, since we're not using our spare fuel jugs... they sort of wandered away. And our stowage is becoming sloppy. Each time we sail, stuff crashes that never crashed before. Up until now, I've always believed that we should be able to go to sea at a moment's (say, ten minutes) notice. But now that's gone by the wayside. We're getting sloppy. Hell, at one point, wasps were living under our sailcovers—oh, the indignities!

Yes, my charts are out-of-date and my headsail sheets are sun-damaged beyond repair.

On the positive side, since we haven't hauled in three years—and since the water around our boat is urinal-warm—we have to scrub the bottom each time we go sailing. The fouling here is awful. We've not only worn out a hundred 3M pads, we've worn out a couple of stainless-steel putty knives as well!

Why is this a 'positive?' Because our cardio systems must be in good shape or we'd have both popped our corks months ago.

Frankly, I can't remember ever diving into the water here without a putty knife or wallboard scraper in my barnacle-scarred hand.

Each week I swim down to my depth meter's transducer and—despite its manual informing me how delicate it is and that I should never use even a harsh 3M pad on it—I hack at it violently with a machete and ball peen hammer to knock off the stubborn barnacles and mussels.

Sailing in Singapore amidst the massive commercial fleet.

We have an ancient EPIRBs—an early kerosene-operated model—that is now hopelessly out-of-date.

So what?

While our faithful SSB still works, it has rust dripping from it and spotted-mildew on its display—damn, those ICOM 710s are workhorses!

Part of the reason we've never had any severe galvanic corrosion on our hull is that we seldom tie up to a dock (where another vessel's incorrectly wired ground system might attempt to use our vessel as its ground). Nonetheless, we have to replace our zincs regularly, as I don't ever want to see the slightest corrosion on our beloved four-bladed Max prop.

As mentioned, the fouling is horrible here. I used to think the Simpson's Bay lagoon was bad—Singapore makes the fouling there seem insignificant. Even though I haul my dinghy out each evening on our davits and tilt-up my outboard engine when it's not in use, so many barnacles grow inside the outboard's lower unit and choke off its cooling system, I need to 'debarnacle' its insides every three months.

Damn, I've never had to do that—ever!

While there is almost no wind here 95% of the time, occasionally savage tropical squalls reach nearly 50 knots. Plus, there's an extreme reversing current of nearly three knots. Thus, my vessel gets tide-bound daily. This, coupled with occasional freighter wakes of three feet (the freighters can be only 60 feet away as they roar by), make for an exciting harbor that has cruising boats breaking loose from their mooring on a regular basis. I've already rescued three of them, in the middle of the night, from certain destruction. (Carolyn happily drinks the wine or champagne their owners bring in token payment.)

But here's the thing fellow sailors—our cruising lifestyle is all about change. I'm adaptable. And Darwin said that adaptability is more important than intelligence. (Thank gosh, because the only skill I have is marrying well.)

Yes, things aren't how I want them—but things are as they are—and I have no choice but to adapt or die.

So, I'm going to adapt—in my lover's arms, on a fine yacht, in the safest country on this planet.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Fatty and Carolyn are still in Singapore, hoping (with less and less conviction) to resume circumnavigating before their hundredth birthdays.

SAILING WITH CHARLIE: VEGAN

CHARTER HUMOR BY JULIAN PUTLEY
GRAPHICS BY ANOUK SYLVESTRE

Vegan is not the name of a villain in the latest James Bond movie or Star Wars episode. Vegans are humans who choose a diet of only vegetables, fungi, fruits and nuts and deny themselves the use of animal foods and products like leather, skins, furs, jewelry etc.

These days more and more people are opting for a vegan diet. So, what is a vegan diet? And why is it becoming so popular? There are different reasons including – personal health, sentiment towards animals, the health of the planet, personal choice and 'joining the club.'

Love of animals is a wonderful thing but left unculled they would overrun the planet. I suppose they could be neutered like our furry friends (pets) but humans were built to eat meat, hence our canine teeth.

Many medical experts say that a vegetarian diet is good for you because it eliminates the saturated fat found in meat. However, Charlie has his own opinion on why vegetarians are slim/skinny – ssshhh! 'No-one asks for seconds!'

For personal health it's wise to eat a wide variety of fruits and vegetables but protein is difficult to come by. Charlie knows one vegan who suffered vitamin B12 deficiency, another who suffered from Seitan (an abundance of wheat protein from which many are allergic). Many are espousing a vegan diet – it's becoming fashionable.

Love of animals is a wonderful thing but left uncultured they would overrun the planet. I suppose they could be neutered like our furry friends (pets) but humans were built to eat meat, hence our canine teeth. Also – Charlie loves a good steak, venison stew, crispy duck, tuna sushi and Coq au Vin. "Rabbit food is for rabbits," he is fond of saying. Years ago, in a book 'Silent Spring' by Rachel Carson it was quoted that cabbages scream when they are cut and Charlie concurs. 'Beans make me fart, greens give me diarrhea, starches constipation. It's called Karma – those plants are getting their own back.' (Guess which side of the debate Charlie is on).

If you're in the hospitality business in the Caribbean, especially on a large charter yacht, one of the things the chef dreads when he reads the 'meal preference sheet' is 'Two guests are vegan, one of them has a celiac allergy and the other can't eat sugar.' As guests get to be more and more particular about their diet, chefs must become more creative. It's enough to make you want to go sailing.

Charlie has never met a vegan sailor – it's almost impossible to maintain on a cruising boat. You can dry fruit and vegetables, include in your diet vitamin supplements, protein bars, nuts... But cruising is about grabbing life by the handlebars and tasting all that it has to offer. A freshly caught fish from sea to pan is a unique delight, tasting local dishes from diverse cultures is a special pleasure, a cowrie shell necklace could be a favorite memento.

In many island nations it would be impossible for the inhabitants to survive without seafood. A vegetarian diet with seafood could be a great option. Sushi, here I come! ☺

ASK THE EXPERTS

BY SIMEON JOSEPH, SALES REPRESENTATIVE AT BUDGET MARINE GRENADA

The trouble with clear varnish!

If you want your varnish to be like it is seen on the world's top yachts, you need a clear varnish. The clearer the varnish the more the grain of the (hopefully) great wood it is covering will stand out. However, the problem with clear varnish is also that if that clarity shows something else like bits of old varnish or dirt, the effect will be exactly the opposite to what is intended.

Clear varnishes are readily available and Epifanes clear varnish is one of the top favorites. However, if for any reason you do not want to make the sometimes-Herculean effort of removing all old varnish and anything that might not show the great wood, then you are better off avoiding clear varnish.

The same applies if the lumber you are covering is not the very best. In those cases, use a varnish that is less clear, or one of the oil products that are never very clear or even consider a stain that will hide the imperfections.

There is no point in frustrating yourself, there are always other projects on any boat!

7-DAY SAILING ITINERARY: THE CAYMAN ISLANDS

BY CAROL M. BAREUTHER

Far west of the traditional tropical term charter destinations such as the Bahamas, Virgin Islands and St. Vincent and the Grenadines, the Cayman Islands are ripe to explore by boat. Geographically considered in the Greater Antilles and located in the Western Caribbean Zone, the Caymans are nearly 400 miles east of Cozumel, Mexico; some 270 miles south of Cuba; and just over 200 miles northwest of Jamaica. There are three main islands – Grand Cayman, Cayman Brac and Little Cayman – totaling over 100 square miles, with everything from sophisticated dining and nightlife to simple anchorages where nature and marine life rules.

There are several charter companies, most based on Grand Cayman north of the capital of George Town along the Seven Mile Beach area. Nearly all of these are locally based companies that only offer half-day, full-day and sunset charter excursions with captain and crew. A few of these have larger luxury catamarans and powerboats in their fleets and will offer customized 5- to 7-day crewed charters. For example, Mainstay Sailing, based at the Cayman Yacht Club, offers Robertson & Caine-built 45-foot sailing cat and a 47-foot power cat.

"Typically for a week's excursion, guests request a few different anchorages around Grand Cayman and a trip to Little Cayman and Cayman Brac," says Captain Jon Dobbin, at Mainstay, who holds an RYA Sailing Instructor Certificate, has worked in the industry for over 30 years and will occasionally host longer charters to Cuba from Grand Cayman.

HERE IS A SAMPLE 7-DAY ITINERARY:

DAY 1: George Town, Grand Cayman. Touch down just outside the Cayman's capital at the British Overseas territory's international airport. Then spend a little time sightseeing. George Town is the heart of the Cayman's famous financial services industry, but the best stops for vacationers are the shops. Items like watches, jewelry, alcohol and clothing are both duty- and sales-tax-free. When hungry and thirsty, and desire a nautical vibe, head to Jimmy Buffett's Margaritaville a block from the cruise ship pier or Guy Harvey's Bar & Grill a few blocks south. Now it's time to embark.

DAY 2: Seven Mile Beach, Grand Cayman. "Grand Cayman has three main safe overnight anchorages and Seven Mile Beach is one of them. The other two are North Sound and East End. In all these zones, there is plenty of exploring, good holding/moorings and access to shore if desired," says Mainstay's Dobbin. The beach here is home to hi-rise resorts and five-star celebrity restaurants. On the wild side, free dive or scuba dive the USS Kittiwake, a 251-foot long, 2,200-ton submarine rescue vessel that operated in World War II. Today, the wreck, whose structures range from 15- to 60-foot

DAY 3: North Sound, Grand Cayman. This is a great locale to visit the territory's stingrays. "The famous Stingrays are definitely worth a stop.... Beautiful animals that have even the most muscle-clad Texan men squealing. This is our North Sound experience, along with snorkeling some of the 7 miles of barrier reef. Often, we encounter sleeping nurse sharks, turtles, eagle rays, and the occasional curious reef shark," says Dobbin. Stingray City, actually a group of sandbars located 20-plus miles north of North Sound, is one of the Cayman's most visited attractions. Here, in the shallow waters, it's possible to swim with, feed, and take photos of the friendly rays.

DAY 4: Little Cayman. Located 60-plus miles to the east, it's an energetic, long and seasick-prone sail to reach this smallest of the Caymans. Some people opt to fly over and meet their vessel there. However, the rewards of visiting are several natural wonders. The Bloody Bay Marine Park boasts an underwater coral-covered wall that drops from 20- to 1000-plus feet. Legend tells that the late Philippe Cousteau named the wall one of the world's best dives. Find pink-hued sand and gentle surf at Point O' Sand. In November, the island's Pirate Week festivities take place.

DAY 5: Cayman Brac. It's only a 15-mile sail to the eastern-most of the Cayman Islands. Scuba diving is superb here too, including a chance to explore the wreck of a Soviet warship renamed the M/V Captain Keith Tibbetts. Explore ashore as well. There are several caves, hiking trails with unique flora and fauna, and opportunities for rock climbing.

DAY 6: East End, Grand Cayman. Plan to spend most of the day at sea. It's nearly a 90-mile trip from Cayman Brac west to the East End of Grand Cayman. While it's downwind, some prefer to fly over and meet their vessel. "The East End of Grand Cayman probably has better coral formations and conditions possibly from being on the windward side and therefore better water flow. This makes the reef entry challenging, especially if our easterly trades are over 15 knots. However, worth a stop," says Dobbin.

DAY 7: George Town, Grand Cayman. It's often a pleasant 18-mile sail along the south side of Grand Cayman to the capital city. Once here, start planning for your next day or several day sail. www.visitcaymanislands.com @

Spotlight: TOP REFIT & HURRICANE STORAGE BOATYARDS

Experience matters ...

This is the perfect time to Refit, Upgrade, Fix or simply place your beloved boat into hibernation for the hurricane season. Who are you going to trust to take care of your prized possession?

Take a moment ... The selection of a boatyard to meet your needs and exceed your expectations can be a daunting challenge.

We're making the choice easy for you. Here's a spotlight on several of the Top Boatyards that specialize in Refit and Hurricane Storage.

This special section will provide an inside look at their capabilities and help you create a relationship to get the job done.

We welcome recommendations for yards to include in next year's edition!

BOBBY'S MEGAYARD

SINT MAARTEN

The Megayard in Sint Maarten has been open now for 10 years and is located in Cole Bay across the lagoon from Simpson Bay Yacht Club. This branch has 2 Travelifts: a 150 metric ton (165 US ton) machine that can haul vessels up to 33 feet wide. And a second machine of 75 tons for the smaller sail boats. This machine can accommodate a 19 foot wide vessel.

This Yard has 24 hour security guard and a 3 meter security wall surrounding the yard with night security lighting. In near proximity to the yard, all within walking distance are a full array of the best vendors of marine parts and equipment in the Caribbean. In addition to this, there is a full selection of vendors supplying all the services one might need performed from: sail makers to rigging, welding, mechanical, refrigeration and electrical all within easy walking distance of the Megayard.

There is a second location of the Megayard alongside the Airport. This Yard has a 50 ton Travelift for the smaller vessels. Here we accommodate the vessels that wish to stay out for a long term. This yard has a security fence and lighting but there is no security guard on duty.

At both the facilities professional assistance is available to solve your boating problems and we have an array of subcontractors that can assist with any work needed to be performed from welding to electrical. The Megayard is experienced at doing your bottom painting and as we use environmentally friendly dustless sanders, we do all work below the waterline without any dust. We offer very competitive pricing and estimates are available upon request for the sanding and painting of the bottom. As we here in Sint Maarten are in the hurricane belt, we of course offer hurricane storage. The Hurricane Season is between the months of June to November. This is a very popular service and early booking is essential. The boats will be chocked and cross braced for security with the masts of keel boats removed as a precaution. Many owners take the opportunity to inspect both rigging and mast at this time. Catamarans are offered hurricane concrete hold down blocks and are chocked both forward and aft to prevent any movement during a storm. We at the Megayard feel that we will offer you our customer a satisfying and professional stay in our yard and we look forward to being of service to you.

BOCAS YACHT SERVICES

BOCAS DEL TORO, PANAMA

Although Bocas Yacht Services has made some significant upgrades to the boatyard, its greatest selling point remains the fact that since it is located in Panama, it is out of the hurricane zone.

The facility, which is about an hour from the cruising hot-spot of Bocas del Toro, has initiated some valuable improvements in the last few months.

They have moved up to a stronger generator to service the electrical needs of their clients. And the fence has been strengthened, even though the yard had already earned the reputation as a very secure place to leave or work on your boat. Besides this barrier, there is also a watchman all night long.

New slings were added to the 20-ton travel-lift and all of the hydraulic lines were replaced as well. The engine is regularly serviced.

The same basic crew remains year after year, which is always a good indicator of a well-run boatyard. Between the manager and staff, they speak English, Spanish and Portuguese.

The yard continues to offer both full-service and do-it-yourself options for cruisers. They can provide skilled spray painters, diesel mechanics, riggers, electrical specialists and fiberglass professionals. Long term storage is also available.

During the pandemic, Panama was one of the most accessible Caribbean nations. Many vessels came here that were not permitted elsewhere. A new policy has made it even easier for arrivals. If you can present a negative Covid PCR test from your departure port you can avoid going into a 14 day quarantine.

Bocas del Toro, itself, continues to attract lots of cruisers. Many view it as The Undiscovered Caribbean. It boasts a superb archipelago, full of islands and beaches with dozens of gorgeous empty anchorages.

The sailing, surfing, snorkeling and hiking are all terrific. The wildlife is magical with sloths, dolphins, toucans and wild monkeys.

The wildlife in town is also great. It features an amazing number of bars and restaurants for such a small, laid-back spot. There are plenty of groceries and hardware stores.

All in all, it is an excellent, HURRICANE-FREE place to sail, chill and get some boatyard work done.

INDEPENDENT BOATYARD & MARINA COMPASS POINT MARINA

ST. THOMAS, USVI

Imagine a renowned marina and full service boatyard uniquely situated in a natural hurricane hole and you start to get the idea behind why the combination of Compass Point Marina and Independent Boatyard & Marina are so special and so in demand.

To your benefit, the timing is right as we now have a brand new 500 foot dock extension added to Compass Point Marina expanding our capacity and specifically designed with wide slips for catamarans.

Boatyard Facts

Independent Boatyard & Marina is located in St. Thomas, US Virgin Islands on the South side of St. Thomas. The boatyard and marina are located in Benner Bay (sometimes known as the "lagoon"), which is a protected hurricane hole. On premises businesses include a Machine shop, a Fiberglass shop, a Wood shop, an Outboard repair shop, and a large Budget Marine chandlery. A large food store (Food Center) is located across the street from the boatyard and down a 1/2 block. The east end town and harbor of Red Hook (Vessup Bay on charts) is about 2 miles east of the boatyard and has numerous restaurants, a pharmacy, and another food store. Red Hook is also the terminus of the St. Thomas to St. John ferry, which usually runs hourly.

The yard is equipped with a 50 ton Marine Travelift (up to 18 feet of beam), 35 ton crane and a 35 ton Hostar Marine yard transporter used for close stacking during hurricane season. The channel into Benner Bay is marked with day shapes on pilings with a depth of 8ft at high tide and 7 feet at low tide in the channel. Please call the office for an emailed channel chart but as a rule, favor the red.

Combined Marina Facts

There is a 93 slip Marina attached to the boatyard, which does long term slip rentals (three months or more). Our sister marina, Compass Point Marina, which has 195 slips, is just South of Independent Boatyard & Marina in Benner Bay bordering the entry channel. Compass Point Marina does do transient slip rental on a space available basis. Both marinas due to their location in a hurricane hole, allow vessels to remain in their slips during the hurricane season provided vessels comply with our written hurricane tie-off plan.

Adjacent to our slipway is a floating staging dock used by vessels slated for haulout.

The perfect location combined with all of the marine services located at your immediate discretion. Everything is covered from provisioning to hurricane storage. Act now to lock in your reservation as we currently have new found availability that assuredly won't last long.

New for 2022, we will be constructing a Catamaran Ramp able to haul out cats up to 45 tons.

PUERTO DEL REY MARINA

FAJARDO, PUERTO RICO

Puerto Del Rey marina in Puerto Rico is the largest and most complete marina in the Caribbean; their first-class facilities have seen significant improvements and investment over the last 14 years. That investment, combined with its strategic location (surrounded by mangroves and mountains), helped avoid a catastrophe during Hurricanes Irma and Maria in 2017. The massive breakwater played a crucial role in saving hundreds of vessels in the water, and the steel and concrete foundations in the Hurricane Storage proved critical in saving hundreds of boats on land. Over 1,300 vessels survived the direct hit from Hurricane Maria and her 200+ mph winds while stored in Puerto del Rey. The marina invested in a 1.5-Megawatt generator capable of running all the facilities and ensuring they are even more prepared for any future events. Call or write them today to ask about Hurricane Storage options.

The Puerto Del Rey Boat Yard is the only yard in the Caribbean with 4 travel lifts; the most powerful of which is capable of hauling out vessels up to 150 tons. There are also bull forklifts that can haul vessels up to 42' LOA and 32,000 lbs. Recently acquired are two new boat forklift machines – the Marina Bull Lo Pro (W7.1 model manufactured by Wiggins), the largest and only one of its category in the Caribbean. This machinery forks on the lift measure 26 feet and are covered in rubber to protect the boats when lifting them, safely and reliably. It has a capacity to lift heavier vessels, up to 30,000 pounds and 45 feet long. Another important feature of this machinery is its 3-tier engine that reduces emissions, making it the most eco-friendly one in the market; aligned with Puerto del Rey's commitment to minimize ecological impact.

You can rest assured that your vessel, regardless of size or service needed, can be taken in by Puerto Del Rey.

Do you need to get some work done on your boat? They have you covered. Puerto del Rey is home to 14 authorized contractors, some of them have built reputations as the best in the region. This gives you the ability to select the contractor whose skillset matches your needs and whose prices come within your budget; all this without leaving the marina! Some of the areas the contractors excel in include: propulsion systems, motor repair and mechanics, woodworking, welding and metal fabrication, electrical repair, fiberglass repair and finishing, and bottom maintenance and painting.

As if that were not enough, Puerto Del Rey offers a wide variety of amenities to their guests and boat owners. Get gas or diesel at the Shell Fuel dock. Get some work done (or some leisure done) by connecting to the free marina Wi-Fi. Take a break from the water and stay in one of their on-premise apartments (1 and 2 bedrooms available). There is also a gym, game room, jungle gym, jogging trail, provisioning assistance, a heliport, on-site car rental service, car wash, hair salon, laundry facilities, a deli-market, and the best seafood restaurant in town. Puerto Del Rey Marina is your one stop shop in the Caribbean for all your boating needs.

"Our range of services will make your visit more convenient and productive. Our excellent contractors, first rate facilities, and dedicated staff will make it an unforgettable experience. Puerto Del Rey Marina is your one stop shop in the Caribbean for all your boating needs. We are more than a marina... we are your gateway to the Caribbean."

7 TOP PLACES TO RENT A BOAT IN THE CARIBBEAN FOR A DAY

BY CAROL M. BAREUTHER

There's no place better to go boating than the Caribbean. That's why it's so easy to hire everything from a super to a sailing yacht be it for a day trip or week-long charter. But what if your means are more modest or time to lime limited and you just want to rent a little runabout for a half or full day to swim, snorkel and explore. Here's a sampling of ways and places you can do just that.

1 The Bahamas. Choose your own adventure on and around Long Island, one of the most scenic in the Bahamas. Long Island Bahamas Boat Rentals & Tours, based in the Mangrove Bush settlement, rents 13- to 21-foot Boston Whalers, a 17-foot Beavertail Flats boat, 19-foot Sundance and 20-foot Sportcraft Fisherman. "Some people fish the reefs, others snorkel a sunken plane, and still others want to visit every deserted beach on secluded cays. Many guests love our swimming pigs, some fish the flats, or walk on pristine sandbars and hunt for shells. Traveling through mangrove waterways, crossing unbelievably fantastic turquoise waters, or simply putt-putting around looking for marine life like of all kinds, stingrays, turtles, sharks, starfish, dolphins, conchs, and more is also fun. Most days it's without another boat in sight," says Zoe Cartwright, general manager. www.longislandbahamasboatrentals.com

2 Puerto Rico. Puerto del Rey Marina in Fajardo is a perfect launching site for a day of sightseeing around the offshore islands and cays to the east. Caribe Bliss Ocean Tours & Boat Rentals have small vessels for rent for up to 6 passengers such as a 27-foot Glacier Bay Cat. "Visit the beautiful islands of Icacos, Palomino, Culebra and Vieques," invites Darlyn Santiago, office manager. Icacos, only 15 minutes away by boat, is a deserted island surrounded by white sand beaches. A section of the 100-acre Palomino Island is a getaway for guests from the El Conquistador Resort on the mainland, but the rest is uninhabited. Culebra and Vieques are two of Puerto Rico's largest offshore islands, complete with bars, restaurants and accommodations as well as beaches, quiet anchorages and spectacular snorkel spots. caribebliss.com

3 St. Thomas, USVI. On a full day, experience beautiful coral, tropical fish, and turtles, says John Bodnar at St. Thomas Boat Rental, located in the Sapphire Bay Mari-

4 St. John, USVI. Go out for tacos at Lime Out, a floating taqueria on the southeast side of the island in Coral Harbor. The only way to get there is by boat. Dockside Dinghy in Coral Bay rents inflatable dinghies for half-and full-days. Rentals come with fuel, a cooler, ice, and safety equipment included. There are several other places to visit too. "One is Hurricane Hole Coral Reef National Monument, where an extraordinary diversity of corals can be found. Over 30 types of coral and numerous sponges, fishes and other organisms make this a very special place to snorkel. Five percent of our profits are donated to the Caribbean Oceanic Restoration & Education Foundation and are very proud of the work they do here to help the reefs," says owner, Jamie Brown. docksidevi.com

RUM REVIEW

BY CLINT AND TERRY BORAM

If our friends are someplace known for their rum, they know to pick us up something that looks interesting to review. Our friend Doug did just that when he went on a cruise to the Caribbean. The unique bottle of Bumbu XO is a very thick, heavy black glass bottle with a tarnished foil "X" across a map of the Caribbean. Let's see if "X" hits the right flavor spot.

Bumbu Rum Company is under the umbrella of Sovereign Brands, a family-owned wine and spirits company partnering with high-quality family-owned companies worldwide. Information about Bumbu Rum Company itself is vague. They are best known for Bumbu The Original rum made "at a historic distillery in Barbados founded in 1893." Bumbu XO, though, is "distilled and aged" in Panama. Since it's not specific where we'll leave the scuttlebutt to others.

Bumbu's Master Distillers source sugarcane from around the world that contains certain minerals to create the unique characteristics of the XO blend. Bumbu XO is distilled using a continuous column still, then aged in ex-bourbon cask before finishing in Spanish white oak sherry casks. The rum is "aged up to 18 years" which would indicate a solera method of aging however, there is no verification of this on the company's website.

Note: Bumbu XO needs five minutes to breathe before sipping or you will get a mouthful of alcohol burn.

HE SAID

There are vanilla, molasses, and a slight hint of oak on the nose. The palate, however, is initially subtle opening up after being held a bit on the tongue. There, the vanilla comes through to reveal even more of the bean while the oak takes a back seat. For me, the finish is where you should spend time exploring. There is a spice that takes a while to identify. There's a potpourri of Caribbean spices such as nutmeg, cinnamon, ginger, and allspice. Not one of these spices takes the lead. I find this blend satisfying and worth the effort to explore.

SHE SAID

When I popped the cork, the aroma was sweet and inviting. I was surprised that a rum aged up to 18 years was still this golden, yet its liquid clung to the glass as an aged rum should. I don't get the vanilla or molasses on the nose that Clint does, but rather a more citrus-forward nose with some hints of floral. The palate surprised me. The liquid almost sparkled on my tongue presenting orange peel and spices. When it traveled to the back of the palate the tongue radiated with ginger and orange until it warmed the chest cavity. Further sips brought out more spices that played with the orange peel.

OVERALL

This was one of the most unique sipping experiences we have had in a while. There is so much that wants to be explored in this rum. If you like spice-forward rum, then Bumbu XO is for you.

OVERALL: 4.25 OF 5

SIPPING RUM SCALE

- 1 – An expensive mixer
- 2 – A quick celebratory shot
- 3 – Wouldn't be embarrassed to share with friends
- 4 – Are my friends worthy of a sip
- 5 – Special moments rum

ABOUT CLINT AND TERRY: We have sampled many a dram over our 33 years of marriage and quite often we don't fully agree. Could be the difference is male/female taste buds. Or, somebody is just wrong.
