SOUTH FLORIDA'S BRADFORD MARINE BUYS ROSCIOLI YACHTING CENTER. Bigger is better! Bradford Marine, a Fort Lauderdale, Florida-based full-service marina and yacht repair facility purchased Roscioli Yachting Center on October 1, 2023. The deal between Bradford and Roscioli owner, OneWater Marine Inc., includes all Roscioli's service operations and real estate. As part of the transaction, Bradford and OneWater have entered into a lease arrangement for OneWater's sales organization to remain on the property, and for Bradford to provide world-class support for the OneWater Yacht Group and Sunseeker brands.

"Since my father and I entered into the Fort Lauderdale marine industry in 2019 with our acquisition of Bradford Marine and Bradford Grand Bahama, we've been able to expand our service offerings through our acquisitions of Billfish Marina, High Seas Technology, Pipewelders Marine, P&R Canvas, and now Roscioli Yachting Center," said Michael Kelly, President and COO of Bradford Marine, in a release.

The Bradford-Roscioli union expands Bradford Marine's lift capacity with a 320-ton lift for vessels up to 150', gives Bradford the most linear feet (19,000) of in-water dockage of any marina in South Florida, and brings its total dry dockage to 3,500 linear feet. bradford-marine.com

PUERTO RICO SAILING FEDERATION CELEBRATES 60 YEARS. It's a diamond anniversary celebration! Puerto Rico's National Sailing Sports Authority, the Puerto Rico Sailing Federation, was founded six decades ago in 1963.

"In my opinion, our greatest achievement has been keeping the sport of sailing alive against all odds," says Graham Castillo, Federation president. "The vision, consistency, and resilience displayed by a long line of committed leaders, parents, and volunteers has resulted in the development of many outstanding Central American and Caribbean, Pan-American, and Olympic sailors. This provides us with a valuable and inspiring legacy that we must celebrate."

It all started with the late founding president, Juan 'Billo' Torruella, Sr., for whom this anniversary celebration is dedicated, says Castillo. "Billo was, among other exemplary accolades, our first Olympic athlete, first International Judge, and recipient of the two highest Olympic Medals awarded by the International Olympic Committee: the Pierre Coubertin Medal for Distinguished Service to the Sport, and the Olympic Order, the highest award for Distinguished Contributions to the Olympic Movement. We are proud to honor his memory."

Castillo has appointed a history committee that has begun work on preparing a chronology of the Federation's events, athletes, leaders, success stories, and memorabilia, which will be used to create publications, displays, and video presentations. Looking ahead, he says the Federation will be restructured with new bylaws based on strategic planning. There will also be a focus on education and professional development by establishing training programs for coaches, race officers, and judges. www.sailingpur.com

NEW BOOYARD YACHT SERVICES PUTS BARBUDA ON THE YACHT CHARTER MAP. It's off the beaten charter path. The 62-square mile island of Barbuda, part of the twin-island state of Antigua and Barbuda, is some 30 miles north of Antigua. There are no marinas, no major supermarkets, and the population numbers less than 2,000. However, two Barbudian sisters, Alana and Althea Nedd, have established their business, Booyard Yacht Services, to make it easier for super yachts and charter yachts to visit.

"Barbuda is well on its way to becoming a must-see charter yacht destination because of the abundance of high-end development that is presently taking place on the island," says Alana Nedd. "Sitting on the pristine Princess Diana beach, which is considered one of the best in the Caribbean, is the famous NOBU restaurant. Barbuda is also a great place for snorkeling, deep-sea diving, and sports fishing because of the island's vast marine ecosystem. On the northern side of the island, you can find scenic caves. It's a perfect setting for guests who are seeking the ultimate hiking experience."

Services offered by Booyard Yacht Services include Customs and Immigration clearances for inbound and outbound yachts, land tours, land provisioning, concierge services, garbage disposal, and live steel band music by vessel request. In 2024, the Nedd sisters hope to offer safari tours and personalized picnic packages. Email: booyardyachting@gmail.com or Cell: (268) 717-4979

WORLD SAILING'S STEERING THE COURSE EVENTS COME TO THE BAHAMAS & CARIBBEAN.

There was a whole lot of sailing going on this fall in the Bahamas and the Caribbean. First, Maria Torrijo and Fabien Bach, two of the world's top sailing race management experts, taught Race Management Clinics in the Bahamas. The clinics were held ahead of the 2023 Fidelity Bahamas Optimist National Championship, with sailors from the Bahamas, USA, and the Cayman Islands competing and putting their newfound skills into practice.

Torrijo and Bach also visited St Vincent and the Grenadines, and Grenada to teach locally-based sailing coaches. In St Vincent's, 13 club officials and sailors participated in the interactive courses, introducing topics such as course-laying, starting, and finishing sequences, scoring protocols, rules and penalties.

"It was such a great clinic and will raise our standard of competition to an international level," said Vanessa Hadley, from the Vincy Sailing Club, in a release.

In Grenada, 16 attendees took part – including ten local Grenadian women – with the goal of teaching more local people to sail, gaining vocational qualifications for a career in the sailing industry, and acquiring the skills required to host international competitions in the islands.

Finally, Second Star Sailing in Antigua hosted the Women At The Helm Sailing Courses in Jolly Harbour the first week in November. The goal was to increase female participation and teach the skills required to skipper boats of all sizes.

Steering the Course will return for its third edition in 2024. For more information, visit www.sailing.org

SUNSAIL COMMEMORATES ITS 50TH ANNIVERSARY WITH BVI FLOTILLA IN 2024.

Celebrate a half-century anniversary in the British Virgin Islands. Sunsail, a Clearwater, FL-headquartered world leader in yacht charters, is offering a special flotilla to mark this monumental occasion. Set for July 27 to August 3, 2024, the one-week charter features stops in Jost Van Dyke, the Baths in Virgin Gorda, and pirate-vibed Norman Island. Highlights include welcome drinks, a beach party, treasure hunting on Norman Island, and a prize-giving and final dinner. Prices for the BVI Flotilla start from $3750 for a Sunsail 41.9, 3 cabin, 2 head classic yacht. www.sunsail.com adds. "When you do manage to get that boat consistency right, the one design magic happens."

The Jeanneaus were used for a range of competitive events including women's regattas, match racing, weekend racing, and special events racing. The boats have swing keels with internal ballast which makes it possible to haul them on a trailer, but this does not affect their sailing performance. They are not planing race boats, so they are not 'downwind flyers'. They do have a good 'rocker' so they tack very easily, which explains why they were perfect for high-level match racing.

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF A CARIBBEAN ONE DESIGN FLEET - ST. MAARTEN'S JEANNEAU 20'S.

Back in the 1990s, a leading charter company set up a small boat sailing experience in Antigua. It was very successful, but the property lease was eventually terminated. Among the equipment were ten Jeanneau 20's in various states of repair. They were scattered all over Antigua with only two still in sailing condition.

"This was in 2004," says Robbie Ferron, avid sailor and founder of the Budget Marine Group. "By a wide range of methods we managed to get the boats to St. Maarten. "A couple were sailed, some went on friendly large vessel decks, and most were towed. Once they were all in sailing condition, we rented them to tourists and also started racing them. Great racing happened over the next fifteen years."

Everyone wants to sail one-designs, but usually, Caribbean buyers' choices don't result in a single vessel type, Ferron

"The boats were taken over by a foundation aimed at youth training but it ran into problems and as of June, sold 5 of the boats to private owners. The owners are all well-established sailing families and all six have agreed to keep the boats in their one-design configuration. So, the stage is set for a repeat of the long era of tight, competitive one-design racing combined with youth and adult training," says Ferron.

Waypoints Yacht Charters Partners with Cruise Abaco

One plus one adds up to more than double the fun for charter guests. Waypoints Yacht Charters, headquartered in Annapolis, MD, has partnered with Cruise Abaco, located at The Great Abaco Beach Resort and Boat Harbour Marina in Marsh Harbour.

"We were looking for a way to increase our footprint. We have had a large increase in inquiries for charters in the Bahamas and this partnership with Cruise Abaco allows us to offer boutique charter experiences like in our other destinations – USVI, BVI, Florida, and Annapolis," says Kirstie Palmer, Waypoints president. "This is a true partnership. The Cruise Abaco sales department will book charters, while Waypoints will manage the Waypoints-Cruise Abaco fleet calendar."

Currently, there are 25 boats in the Waypoints-Cruise Abaco fleet.

In addition to bareboat charters, the company offers a unique concept called 'Captained by Day, Bareboat by Night'. This offers a captain on board to sail the Bahamas during the day, making stops to swim and snorkel, who then leaves guests safely moored in a different settlement or secluded cove each evening. Waypoints – Cruise Abaco also offers day sails in the Bahamas with stops at the underwater parks to snorkel, island hop, and sightsee. Finally, the Waypoints-Cruise Abaco base is also the perfect location for those who want to learn to sail through the ASA sailing school. waypoints.com

DECEMBER 2 | Gustav Wilmerding Memorial Challenge.

Named after a fictitious pirate, this one-day race started in 1991 so the BVI's West End Yacht Club could enjoy one more regatta before the year ended. Last year a small fleet went multis against monos in an inter-island course west of Tortola around the Thatch islands and out around Sandy Cay. Ultimately, Chris Haycraft won aboard his 31' Corsair, Ting. The race benefits the KATS program. www.westendyachtclubbvi.com

DECEMBER 4-9 | Antigua Charter Yacht Show.

The 62nd show will go on, and with virtually no impact, after an October 2 fire devastated the Antigua Yacht Club Marina Business Complex. "The good news is that we are expecting the number of yachts exhibiting to be higher than pre-pandemic levels," says Faheema Akaloo Mohammed, ACYM secretariat manager. The 65-plus boats range from 62' to 312', with the majority over 100', and with a mix of sail, motor, monohull, and multihull. An added feature this year is yachts available for sale. The show is based at Nelson's Dockyard, with yachts on show at the Dockyard Marina, Antigua Yacht Club Marina, and Falmouth Harbor Marina. www.antiguayachtshow.com

DECEMBER 9 | Club Nautico de San Juan Christmas Boat Parade.

The bay in Puerto Rico's Old San Juan will be merry and bright when festively outfitted vessels parade between 6 to 8 p.m. "Tradition is everything," says Virginia de los Reyes, the Club's communications consultant. "Everyone will be decorating and illuminating their vessels, inviting friends and family to join, and spending a delightful evening together navigating the waters of San Juan Bay." Visiting boats are welcome to join. Landlubbers will have the best view from Bahia Urbana. clubnauticodesanjuan.com

DECEMBER 8-10 | Caribbean Foiling Championships.

Foiling has taken flight in the Caribbean. This fourth annual event welcomes Wingfoil, Windfoil, and Kitefoil divisions, each offering professional and leisure classes to accommodate participants of all skill levels. Racing spans three action-packed days. Two days will showcase high-paced course racing, while the third day features the thrilling 26-nautical mile long-distance 'Around the Island Race.' New, Compagnie des Iles du Nord (CIN) and Frigodom have teamed up to sponsor a 20' shipping container to transport competitors foiling equipment to and from Guadeloupe to St. Martin for free. "The upcoming event promises a sensational weekend, uniting like-minded individuals and the vibrant foiling community," says Maxim van den Pol, event organizer. ### DECEMBER 31 | Old Year's Night Party & Fireworks at Foxy's.

Foxy's Tamarind Bar, in Great Harbour, Jost Van Dyke, in the BVI, is hands down the hottest way to ring in the New Year in the world. This year's party theme is Game of Thrones. "We are hoping many will come dressed for the theme, though they may need shorter versions if they come by dinghy and have to jump in knee-deep water to get ashore," says Tessa Callwood, wife of the famous namesake, Foxy Callwood. Inner Circle is the headlining band this year, playing in the restaurant and bar's Outback area. Regular entry and VIP options are available online. foxysbar.com

DECEMBER 31 | Nelson's Pursuit Race.

Any sailboat is welcome to ring out the Old Year at this Jib & Main only race that makes a cool way for visiting cruisers to participate. "Forty yachts raced last year, with the winner an RS Elite skippered by 12-year-old Carrick Jones," says Tom Paterson, dock master at the Antigua Yacht Club Marina. This year, individual start times will be at 10:30 a.m. and 12 Noon, and take place below Fort Charlotte outside English Harbour, with an after-party in English Harbour. ### JANUARY 1 | SSCA Annual New Year's Day GAM, Trinidad & Tobago.

The Seven Seas Cruising Association's (SSCA) first GAM (get-together of members) of the year for the last nearly three decades happens in Chaguaramas, Trinidad, where Jesse James, owner of 'Members Only' Maxi

Taxi Service and the SSCA's Cruising Station Host for the island, welcomes cruisers. SSCA members and non-members are welcome. The event starts at 1 p.m. "It's a potluck-style event," says James, who shares host duties with wife Sharon Rose. "I provide the meat; everyone brings a dish and I get sponsors for the drinks. We have door prizes donated from several businesses in Chaguaramas, with the big prize a free haul out with five days free on land." A big plus to visiting Trinidad as a 'yacht in transit' is that bringing in any spares for vessel repair is duty- and VAT-free. ## Watch This!

CRUISING | BY CAP'N FATTY GOODLANDER

Confession: I have an Apple Watch. Worse, it's an Ultra 2. What's that mean? That means that I'm morally superior to Ultra 1 owners and, frankly, that I find older, dumber watch owners running Watch OS 10 beneath my contempt.

Seriously, they're like short people... they have no freak'n reason to live!

That's right—the AppleSphere is a very, very mean place. But, hey, that's part of the joy of being able to afford one of these status-gizmos-on-steroids, from which you can ask Google 'how to solve world hunger' and then laugh and laugh.

I, personally, laughed when told that my watch was totally 'carbon-neutral' during Apple's Annual Self-Love Fest—even its two-hundred-dollar cotton band helps to reverse climate change.

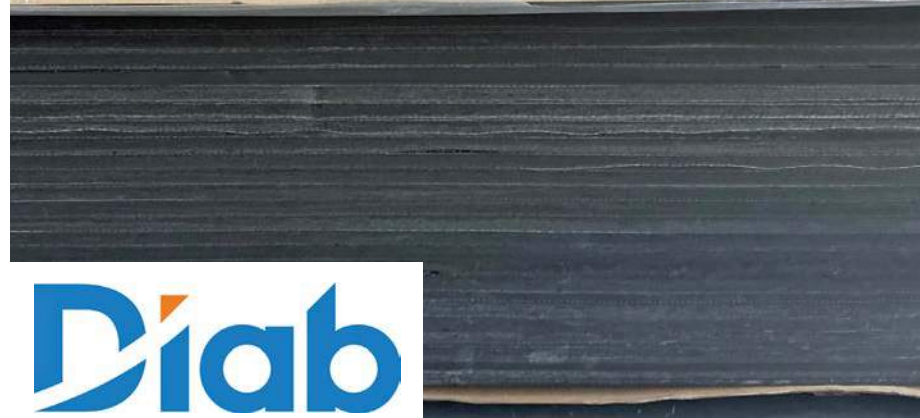

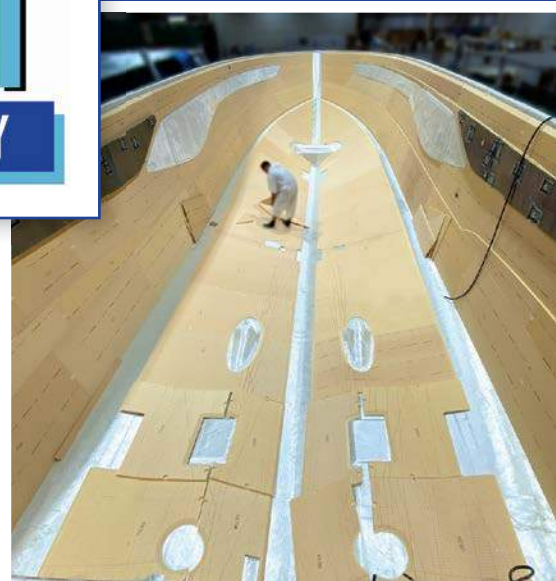

Am I saving the world, or what!

...poor folk should applaud as I strut by with my nose in the air!

The Ultra 2 is big. Its screen is so big I could comb my hair in its reflection—well, if I still had hair. The watch is heavy, too. Yes, I had to have my seamstress wife sew up a custom PFD for it, should I both MOB and WOB (Man OverBoard and Watch OverBoard).

Why?

Because I'm a frugal sailor, that's why! I can quickly figure out discounts—even the 'steep discounts' advertised on these pages—on my watch's calculator. (In case you haven't noticed, a lot of marine chandleries offer 3% discounts on their 2000-times-marked-up products.) Nice!

Plus, because of my watch's calendar, I never miss appointments with my... er... my 'massage therapist.' This makes her happy-happy!

In addition, you'll never miss another ~~drug buy~~, er... er, appointment with your pharmacist either!

I, personally, laughed when told that my watch was totally 'carbon-neutral' during Apple's Annual Self-Love Fest—even its two-hundred-dollar cotton band helps to reverse climate change. Am I saving the world, or what!

There are other advantages to an iWatch, especially for a marine journalist like myself. A lot of people want to kill me because I spew inane articles like this one—well, the literate ones that can read, anyway. Thus, if I'm murdered, the cops will immediately know TOD, Time of Death, before they sell my watch to the hackers who will drain its bank accounts, so my wife will receive no benefit for my existence—not that she ever has thus far.

Yes, I have iSailor on my watch. All I have to do is 'screen capture' and my lat/lon position is saved forever... along with, of course, a digital record of my every orgasm. (Of course, I voluntarily share this salacious info with the voyeuristic Apple so they can 'fund raise' off it. Donald ain't the only smart American, there's Tim Cook too!)

The watch is wonderful for timing yacht race starts. It not only does the 'time on distance' bits beautifully, but with proper app integration, it will even reveal the video watching habits of prominent, passionate race committee members—extremely useful data if you're called Into The Room for a protest hearing.

That's right—if you're about to get tossed out of a race for running into a competitor while on port tack—merely because the lucky bastard just happened to be on starboard—looking the chief international judge in the eye and saying under your breath 'I, too, prefer reverse cowgirl!' just might change the outcome of the protest!

Of course, my watch is useful for animated learning. I have my knots tied for me digitally, in cyberspace! How cool is that? (Another bonus: no chafe!) Plus, there are animated racing rules! And we haven't even gotten to the Karma Sutra yet!

The 'instant translation' feature is quite useful, especially while cruising in Go-Go Asia. For instance, as I stroll through crowds in Sing-Sing-a-Pour, I have my watch automatically scream, "Make Money or Die! Make Money or Die!" in Mandarin.

...then we all high-five each other.

Far out, eh?

Why be merely greedy when, with the proper watch apps, you can be hyper-greedy!

Let's face it—Blackberries and other smart phones are passé. Physical location is no longer important. I can do lots of intimate things (like divorce my wife, stop paying her alimony, even propose matrimony to my mistress... all from my Apple Watch and its Romance-on-the-Go app!

And the Wallet feature is divine. Not only can you board almost any bus or MRT train with just a press of its button; even local hitmen in Bangkok use Apple Pay! If you're in the slums of Hong Kong and need a new kidney and aren't particularly concerned about how that kidney was procured (why worry about the past, right?) use your watch!

Recently I was mugged—and, of course, asked my robber if he was using an Apple 9mm or Samsung 38?"

"...a Glock, actually," the robber replied sadly, then inquired timidly, "This isn't allowed in the AppleSphere?"

...obviously NOT!

I can't wait for the AppleCar. Rumors from the Apple campus in California are that it will automatically run Tesla's into the ditch if you have paid for the 'F-Elon' plug-in. (Where did his money go? Well, X marks the spot!)

We use the HOME features a lot to run our bilge pumps and change our Perkins engine's lube oil. There are lots of uses for an Apple Watch other than just ego-tracking!

keeps you sailing! ☐

In Asia, we old folks are worshipped. I'd write more about this—but I forget the exact details! (For all you young folks snickering—as a young man I knew I was a rotten person but now that I'm old and my memory is fading... Well, every day I have a more virtuous opinion of myself!)

Anyway, my LUMI app constantly asks me about how much I exercise and how much I've cut back on sugar, but it can't tell a 'white lie' from a black one. Thus, with a falsehood here and falsehood there, I score points that are then redeemable for healthy products at 7-Eleven stores. These products can hence be traded on the black market for herbs, spices, and various alkie products—far out, dude!

Plus, I get exercise running back and forth between stash houses pulling off these scams—a total win-win for me and my thrilled wife (who, admittedly, has never been exactly showered with presents!)

Now, some folks are worried about AI. Not me.

For instance, I asked ChatGPT to delete any emails asking me for money or wanting me to pay back any money I owed... anyway, I haven't had a time-wasting email since!

...actually, any email for that matter.

Yes, AI is better and more ego-flattering than a mirror. I ask my iPad almost every day, "Who is the best American writer alive today—and guess whose picture stares back at me?"

...yes, quite an ego-boost!

Of course, AI must be trained. For instance, it couldn't understand why all my really, really good friends were filed, quite descriptively, in the folder GULLIBLE in my contacts.

A lot of people want to kill me because I spew inane articles like this one—well, the literate ones that can read, anyway. Thus, if I'm murdered, the cops will immediately know TOD, Time of Death, before they sell my watch to the hackers who will drain its bank accounts, so my wife will receive no benefit for my existence—not that she ever has thus far.

Of course, I don't always have time to exercise due to such unexpected developments such as laziness and sloth. Thus, I often have my daughter's maid 'run-my-watch up a hill or two' to keep my stats up. Yes, Apple watches put a premium on exercise—which is why so many too-rich users are seen idly shaking their left arm in the backseat of their limousines.

Yes, there are numerous timers on the watch—you don't want a poor equatorial maid dying of heat prostration, do you?

I particularly love the international time zone graph with day-and-night sine waves... how else would I know when I'm missing appointments in, say, Africa, Cocos Keeling, or in Madagascar?

I like the audio book feature too. I've written a dozen books—one of which got a glowing review in the late '70s. I play that review the entire time I'm cycling with my AirPods in. What writer can resist a fan fawning over them with such approval as, "Thanks for making the paper softer in your second book!"

...its things like that that keep a creative artist going!

Yes, it has a special Yachtsman Compass (with Joshua Slocum's image on the watch face) that not only shows your yacht's course and its angle of heel; but it remembers where you parked your car in the marina as well.

Damn, that's convenient!

Not everything functions well. I ride my bike a lot, but the Cycle Tracking feature leaves a lot to be desired. Plus, there's no way to explain to the app that neither I nor my bike ovulates! I haven't even tried the DEPTH feature. Frankly, I prefer to keep the dimensions of my depravity to myself.

My heart rate during the start of a yacht race is extremely fast—too bad about my boat-speed.

My iWatch has a 'mindful meditation' feature as well. But, really? I mean, even as old as I am, I can still remember to ogle the chicks!

Did I point out the medication reminder? Of course, if I'd have had that gizmo in the 1960s, I wouldn't be alive today.

Some days, of course, I get tired of singing my own praises—that's where podcasts-on-your-wrist come in handy... to hear other yachties singing my praises. (Well, only one podcast so far but, hey, I'm confident the number will grow!)

Yes, the Ultra 2 has a loud siren I can trigger in an instance—which I do if any Evangelicals stumble too close. (I'm not into religion because I obeyed one of the Ten Commands once—and, well, being truthful didn't work for me!).

Yes, I use the voice memo feature—but not the pedo-centric walkie-talkie feature which is so popular in parks and public bathrooms frequented by the trench coat set.

I haven't checked out the STOCKS feature because, hey, I don't need to immobilize anyone's head and hands. Yes, I'm extremely fond of the sleep app—especially if my wife asks me to take out the garbage. ("I'd love to honey—but my iWatch is in the middle of recording my REM sleep cycle!")

The revamped Apple weather app is amazing. I get real-time weather updates for suitable 'windows' to screw off, go-missing, or get drunk.

There's no end to the amazement of the new iPhone 15 either. You can have it remind you to insult your spouse every ten minutes—or even more often if the special ‘blonde’ mode is turned on.

There’s even a ‘sextant option’ that allows you—if you raise your wrist to the lower limb of the sun—to adjust the index arm of your virtual Plath and thus determine the old fashion way if you’re at sea or still tied up to the dock.

F’n A, right?

Did I mention the $1,200 life raft app? Amazing! I mean, only Apple could cram a six-man raft inside that tiny case!

While the life raft app needs to be recertified every twelve months (to check air pressure in the bottle and to replace the flashlight batteries, I guess)—I can’t wait to see the raft (version 2.0) inflate and make a fool of my skeptical wife!

I know, I know—just think of how many times Robin Knox Johnson could have sailed around the world if he’d had an Apple Watch paired with an iCloud subscription? Dozens, maybe?

That’s it for now, faithful readers—I gotta find 5 volts and recharge! ☺

Culebra Island Guide: Top 10 Must-Visit Spots for a Caribbean Escape

BY CAPT. SHANE MCCLELLAN

Do you want to visit an island that feels like the Caribbean from 30-40 years ago with a Spanish flair? Then you want to head to the tiny island of Culebra, 20 miles east of Puerto Rico. Having been based in St Thomas for most of my 12+ year charter career, I have been to Culebra many, many times and I consistently say it is my favorite island in the Caribbean. Let's dive into my top ten for the island of Culebra.

10 Downtown Culebra – Make sure you temper your expectations when you read “downtown,” because the island is only 5 by 7 miles in size and the town is only a handful of streets. With that said, it is a great little town to walk around in. The central plaza and church are the highlight and everything seems to revolve around this area. Personally, I love the post office, because it has an old west feel to it. If you sail over in a boat most people anchor in the huge bay of Ensenada Honda on the east side of town. I personally find this bay to be bumpy a lot due to the trade winds and I prefer to anchor on the other side of town in Sardinas Bay. It is always calm and never crowded. You just have the ferry coming in several times a day.

9 Culebra Bridge – The downtown area is divided by a natural canal that connects Ensenada Honda and Sardinas Bay. You would think you could go from one to the other easily, but the canal is fairly shallow and narrow. Plus there is a lift bridge you would have to deal with. The fun story of the bridge is that when it was built back in the day they had a dedication ceremony showing off the fact it was lifted up to let boats through the canal. Well that first time it got stuck and when they finally got someone out to get it back down they decided to never raise it again. It is fun jumping from the bridge into the canal below though.

8 Las Pelás Bay - On the southeast part of Culebra there is a bay behind a barrier reef that runs between Culebra and the tiny island of Pelá before it makes a 90 degree turn to the north. To get into this bay you have to head halfway into Puerto del Manglar before making an almost 180 degree turn around a shoal. Once inside Las Pelás Bay you will find a quiet anchorage with fantastic protection behind the reef...that is until the weekend when boats from Puerto Rico come to party.

SYSTEMS

APPLICABLE WITH GAS/ WATER SEPARATOR MUFFLERS

PROCESS: clean-exhaust's dosing pump injects the specifically formulated eco-Brew™ into the generator/engine raw water cooling system before the spray ring. The ecoBrew™ emulsifies the diesel particulate matter and soot as it passes through the piping and muffler, much like the agitation action in a washing machine. No back pressure is created in the process.

RESULT: The exhaust gas is expelled with little or no particulate, facilitating cleaner air, cleaner harbors, cleaner oceans, cleaner hulls and boot stripes with no floating sheen or sludge.

7 Point Soldado Bay – The southernmost bay on the west coast is protected from the easterly trade winds, but a swell seems to usually make it around Point Soldado making this a day time anchorage. That does not matter because snorkeling here is a delight due to the coral farm the university has set up to grow and study various corals.

6 Point Tamarindo Grande – Further up the west coast past town and Sardinas Bay there is a good overnight anchorage on either side of Point Tamarindo, depending on which way the swell is coming in. Here I have always found great snorkeling that has captured our attention every time I have been here. Beware the next bay to the south is called Bahia Tamarindo and you will get lots of flies due to the island dump, so stay in the anchorages on either side of Point Tamarindo Grande.

5 Luis Pena – A mile west of Culebra is the small island of Luis Pena, which has been turned into a wildlife preserve. There are four anchorages around the island that provide “ok” to great protection. The snorkeling is spectacular all around the island and the northern anchorage has a beautiful small beach, although you must pay attention to the north swell at this anchorage.

4 Flamenco Beach - Located on the north coast, this half moon shaped beach is a mile long and regularly is included in many top beaches list. The bay is somewhat protected and there are some food and drink vendor huts available. This is the one place on the island that can feel a bit crowded, but the beach is worth it. To add a bit of uniqueness, you will find two WW2 Sherman tanks on the beach. They are leftover artifacts from the period between 1939 and 1975 when the US Navy used the island as a gunnery range.

3 Restaurants - You would not think that an island with a population of 1700 and lacking any resorts or hotels (you will mostly just find guest houses and cottages) would have a great restaurant scene, but you would be wrong. While the food is excellent at many restaurants on the island, they all are very low key as far as atmosphere, which fits right in with the island vibe as a whole. While Mamacitas has the biggest name recognition I feel the Dinghy Dock is the best on the island with Zaco's Tacos a close second.

2 Dakity anchorage - Located on the port side as you enter the large Ensenada Honda anchorage you will find a small anchorage behind a barrier reef. I have spent many nights here with absolutely nothing blocking the trade winds. Even when the winds are north of 20 knots the anchorage is flat calm and that breeze is so cool and refreshing. I always find interesting things to see when I snorkel here and the cut in the middle of the reef is very interesting to snorkel. This is one of my all time favorite anchorages due to the protection, quietness, and snorkeling.

1 Culebrita - I think you would be hard pressed to find anyone that does not have Culebrita as their #1 destination around Culebra. This little island off the east coast of Culebra is a deserted gem. There are two anchorages to choose from. The western one offers better protection and snorkeling, but the north one is off the stunning Tortuga Beach which is a small version of Flamenco Beach minus the tanks and vendors. During the week you will be one of the only boats here, but during the weekend it can be overwhelmed with power boats from Puerto Rico and takes on a party atmosphere. If you walk to the far eastern end of the anchorage you will find a notch in the rocks that the swell comes crashing in as you sit in a pool of water that is called the Jacuzzi. A trip to Culebrita would not be complete without a hike up to the lighthouse, which was the last lighthouse built by the Spanish Empire in the Americas. The vantage gives you a spectacular view of the surrounding reefs and you can see St Thomas to the East.

Captain Shane and Lily are back in the Virgin Islands running charters after spending two years cruising the Greater Antilles and Central America. You can read all about them and their travels at svGuiding-Light on the web or your favorite social media.

Independent Boatyard & Marina Compass Point Marina

ST. THOMAS, US VIRGIN ISLANDS

Imagine a renowned marina and full service boatyard uniquely situated in a natural hurricane hole and you start to get the idea behind why the combination of Compass Point Marina and Independent Boatyard & Marina are so special and so in demand.

To your benefit, the timing is right as we now have a brand new 500 foot dock extension added to Compass Point Marina expanding our capacity and specifically designed with wide slips for catamarans.

Boatyard Facts

Independent Boatyard & Marina is located in St. Thomas, US Virgin Islands on the South side of St. Thomas. The boatyard and marina are located in Benner Bay (sometimes known as the "lagoon"), which is a protected hurricane hole. On premises businesses include a Machine shop, a Wood shop, an Outboard repair shop, and a large Budget Marine chandlery. A large food store (Food Center) is located across the street from the boatyard and down a 1/2 block. The east end town and harbor of Red Hook (Vessup Bay on charts) is about 2 miles east of the boatyard and has numerous restaurants, a pharmacy, and another food store. Red Hook is also the terminus of the St. Thomas to St. John ferry, which usually runs hourly.

The yard is equipped with a 50 ton Marine Travelift (up to 18 feet of beam), 35 ton crane and a 35 ton Hostar Marine yard transporter used for close stacking during hurricane season. The channel into Benner Bay is marked with day shapes on pilings with a depth of 8ft at high tide and 7 feet at low tide in the channel. Please call the office for an emailed channel chart but as a rule, favor the red.

Combined Marina Facts

There is a 93 slip Marina attached to the boatyard, which does long term slip rentals (three months or more). Our sister marina, Compass Point Marina, which has 195 slips, is just South of Independent Boatyard & Marina in Benner Bay bordering the entry channel. Compass Point Marina does do transient slip rental on a space available basis. Both marinas due to their location in a hurricane hole, allow vessels to remain in their slips during the hurricane season provided vessels comply with our written hurricane tie-off plan.

Adjacent to our slipway is a floating staging dock used by vessels slated for haulout.

The perfect location combined with all of the marine services located at your immediate discretion. Everything is covered from provisioning to hurricane storage. Act now to lock in your reservation as we currently have new found availability that assuredly won't last long.

Donate Your Boat – Why, Where & How To

BY CAROL M. BAREUTHER, RD

One of the Caribbean youngest, yet among the most active yacht clubs, started with the donation of a boat. An old, beat-up Hobie Cat, to be exact, tells John Whitsett, former commodore of the 2010-founded Petite Calivigny Yacht Club (PCYC), headquartered at Le Phare Bleu Marina on the south coast of Grenada. "Everyone pitched in to get it sailable. We made arrangements with local resorts to occasionally borrow their Hobie Cats so we could have a race or two." Then in 2013, the founder of the Grenada Chocolate Company, David Friedman (Mott Green), unexpectedly and tragically died. "Mott Green was very 'green' in his organic beliefs and practices, which included delivering his organic chocolate bars to Carriacou via his Hobie Cat," says Whitsett. "After his death, contact was made with his mother requesting what her plans might be for his Hobie Cat. Hearing that a struggling yacht club was interested in the boat, a use she was sure her son would have approved of, she offered to 'sell' Mott's Hobie Cat to the Club for a next-to-nothing price. That was the start of the Club's dinghy fleet."

Every year since then, the PCYC has hosted its annual Motts Memorial Hobie Cat Challenge in July.

Why Donate - Giving

Selling a boat can take a long time and incur mounting expenses like marina dockage.

"If the boat is seaworthy and in good condition, why continue with the expenses when donating will probably result in a tax deduction? Also, the donor will be helping a nonprofit organization that develops sailing. It's a win-win situation," says Graham Castillo, president of the Puerto Rico Sailing Federation (PUR).

The Federation received a donation of a Morgan 30 in excellent condition a few years ago. It was auctioned by the organization with proceeds benefiting the National Sailing Sports Authority's sailors.

Sometimes it's all about recognizing a need.

St. Thomas' Joe Hosie had been friends for years with the late Jimmy Loveland, who founded the Marine Vocational Program (MVP) on St. Thomas. Hosie saw Loveland's devotion to teaching children and teens maritime skills.

"Jimmy mentioned to me his desire to have a power boat he could accommodate the trainers on, and he said he often thought my 28' Cape Dory Open Fisherman was the perfect vessel for his needs," says Hosie. "After a while, I realized I wasn't using my boat much as there was too much growth accumulation on its hull. I remembered Jimmy's need and request and decided to give it to him and help out with the kids."

Those who want to donate their boat to a local sailing program should start by talking to the program manager or commodore of the yacht club, recommends Saskia Revelman, manager at the St. Maarten Yacht Club (SMYC). "Enough storage room and a goal for the boat is critical for the programs to think about before accepting the donation. We all know that owning a boat brings costs, in insurance and maintenance, so it is great to get a boat donated, but taking care of it in the long run is something to take into consideration."

Revelman adds, "But see the possibilities as well. A donation might come suddenly and bring unexpected possibilities with it. A new boat, new input, and new stimulation for the sailors in the sailing school, and maybe even target a new group that you can include in your program.”

The SMYC recently received a donated Sun Fast 20 from the Kids at Sea Foundation and Maritime School of the West Indies. A Sun Fast 20 is a 20' keelboat that's easily accessible, stable, can hold 4 to 5 people, and is ideal for teaching sailing lessons. There is a fleet of 8 individually owned boats on the island that race together regularly.

Why Seek Donations - Receiving

One of the most important ingredients in obtaining a donation is showing a need.

“If someone is going to make a boat donation, they want to see the vessel put to good use. In addition, it helps to show sustainability. One doesn't want to give something they have a history with to an organization that is barely hanging on and doesn't have the funds to maintain the donation,” says PCYC's Whitsett.

Since its original Hobie, the PCYC has had several additional dinghies and support boats donated. Some of these have come from Club members, some from residents who are moving, some from local businesses, and some from sailors who have either outgrown a boat or are just giving up sailing.

“Most of our donations have come from a phone call or a chance meeting and have been predominately for our junior program. The conversation line is usually ‘I see the kids out there practicing and I have an X that I am not using. If you can use it, it is at...You will need a truck (or trailer) to pick it up.' "And that is it," says Whitsett.

Most of the boats donated to the PCYC have been free with no paperwork required, while others have been very discounted prices and required a Bill of Sales that put a value on the boat, Whitsell says. "If the donation is large enough to justify insurance/and/or a registration, then a Bill of Sale is probably necessary."

The Fine Print

Donating and/or receiving a donated boat can have legal requirements based on local laws.

"Potential donors make the offer. The boat must have a clean title and no liens. It must have a price or be appraised to generate the donation document that will get the boat's title transferred to the organization that will then sell it, auction it, or use it as, for example, part of the educational assets if a sailing school," says PUR's Castillo.

The charitable organization should provide boat owners with a written acknowledgment of the donation. This acknowledgment should include details such as the date of the donation, a description of the boat, and a statement confirming whether you received any goods or services in exchange for the donation, says Leigh F. Goldman, Esq. of Goldman Law Offices in St. Thomas, who donated his time to assist with the MVP's Cape Dory donation in 2016.

"In the US, donating a vessel to a charitable organization has specific tax implications," Goldman adds. "The tax forms you'll need to complete and submit will depend on the value of the donated vessel and the specific circumstances of the donation. You should consult with a tax professional, or accountant experienced in charitable contributions to ensure that you complete the necessary forms correctly and maximize your tax benefits while complying with IRS regulations."

In the end, the fine print and paperwork can be well worth it.

"Boat donations are very beneficial to developing yacht clubs, sailing clubs, and/or junior programs," says PCYC's Whitsett.

Charter Yacht Society of the BVI Celebrates Over Four Decades of Excellence

BY PAUL CARRELL

If a guest is fortunate enough to experience a professionally crewed charter yacht, you can be assured that most of them are unaware of the amount of work involved to guarantee their charter will measure up to their expectations.

Several factors determine the success of a charter. The yacht. The crew. The weather. The cost, the broker, and the politics to make it all possible for them to board the chosen yacht of their dreams and have that much anticipated glass of champagne.

Most owners of charter vessels rely on professional crews to maintain and run their expensive investments. A charter vessel requires a team of professionals to guarantee that the boats reputation, and reliability measure up to the task of providing the client with their monies worth. In order to ensure that this happens the Charter Yacht Society of the British Virgin Islands was created on August 23, 1982.

The founding members proposed to establish an entity that insured three criteria.

- "To ensure good relationships between the resident, independent crewed charter boats and the Government and people of the British Virgin Islands."
- "To propagate the observation of the laws of the Territory and respect for its social standards and culture."
- "To foster a business climate beneficial to its members consistent with the smooth development of the charter boat industry and promote the interests of locally owned vessels"

These objectives are the cornerstones of the Charter Yacht Society of the British Virgin Islands.

The initial 'Society' of 1992 would act as a liaison between the burgeoning fleet of charter owners and captains that chose to leave the USVI due to the introduction of the Passenger Vessel Safety Act of 1993 which restricted the amount of paying guests a vessel could legally carry in US waters and the government of the British Virgin Islands.

Beginning in 1993 the CYS was in place to encourage Lavity Stoutt and his ministers to see the benefits of the charter industry and assist him in establishing the new laws to encourage a charter vessel to "work" out of the BVI's. This action prompted the ministries to allow vessels to make incremental payments of Import duties and enacted the seven pick up rule. The "New Charter Yacht Strategy" encouraged vessels to charter out of the BVI's.

As we all know there can only be one captain on a ship and in the case of the Charter Yacht Society that "captain" is Janet Oliver who began working with the CYS in 1996, and has remained at the helm for twenty seven years!. Janet's tenacity, foresight and perseverance has enabled the charter yachts in the BVI to be represented through the cyclical times of the charter industry. Over the years, Janet has been involved in twenty nine Charter Yacht Broker Boat shows, earning her the induction to the CYBA hall of fame in 2021!.

In her tenure as executive director she has witnessed the transformation of the fleet from monohulls to luxurious catamarans where charter fees grew from $6000 to over $60,000 for a week on some of these large catamarans and powerboats.

Hurricanes have decimated the infrastructure of the islands, destroyed two thirds of the boats and businesses. Pandemics literally closed the islands down, but the CYS boat shows continued to show the brokers that the BVI "took some licks" but stayed afloat through any adversity. It took a while but returning guests equated their experiences as "going back to the eighties" with empty anchorages, beaches and fewer vessels. The marine life flourished and the island industry was reborn. Janet was there for all of it.

So with that in mind we are anticipating a stellar charter season here in the islands with boats queuing up to be included in the forty first Charter Yacht Society Boat Show from November 7th – 10th 2023.

Welcome aboard, tell your friends and families that there has never been a better time to escape to the islands and experience the beauty around us.

Rum Gifts For That Special Someone

RUM REVIEW
BY CLINT AND TERRY BORAM

We're always asked, "What is your favorite rum?" The answer is, "It depends." There are so many variables to rum that it's hard to recommend just one when someone asks us this question. Now, if someone asks, "Do you have a rum recommendation to buy my [boss, father-in-law, best friend...] there, we can definitely help.

GOSLING OLD RUM

Gosling is synonymous with Bermuda, Black Seal Rum and Dark 'n Stormy®. The company's Old Rum begins with their Black Seal Rum recipe, which uses a blend of pot still and continuous column stills. Old Rum is aged in charred oak barrels for 16-19 years. The aging provides a well-balanced, complex rum to enjoy with a decadent dessert or simply watching a sunset. We found the nose smooth and silky, like a fine cognac, with notes of vanilla, dark chocolate, and cloves. Those notes continue on the palate, where cloves and pepper take over to provide a warm, lasting finish. $88/bottle

RON ZACAPA 23

Ron Zacapa won top honors five years in a row (1998 – 2002) at the International Rum Festival in Miami and was officially retired from that competition. The uniqueness of Ron Zacapa comes from the Sistema Solera System blending rums from carefully selected casks with a multitude of flavors (bourbon, whiskey, cognac...), char, and age. This 23 rum is on the sweeter side with vanilla, caramel, and butterscotch. As you sip, the rum becomes more complex, adding honey, nutmeg, cinnamon, and ginger. The finish is a balance of sweet and earthy with a hit of warming spice. $84/bottle

PUSSER'S RED LABEL

Yes, we know Pussers is for making a Painkiller® but their Red Label is for sipping. Known as the "Single Malt of Rum, this 15-year-old rum is produced in Guyana from sugar cane grown in the Demerara River Valley. The company is one of the few producers in the world using a double wooden pot still, which imparts a deep, rich flavor to the rum. The nose is very sweet, with vanilla bean, sherry, brandy, caramel, and the charred barrel hiding in the background. Once on the palate, those charred notes take center stage with tobacco, dark chocolate, and cherry. The finish is smooth and lingers with florals and tropical fruit. $73/bottle

DIPLOMÁTICO NO 2 BARBET RUM

Diplomático, produced in Venezuela, combines high sugar content cane with their non-commercial yeast strain, three different distillation processes, and the diversity of aged barrels. The No 2 Barbet Rum, part of the Limited Edition Distillery Collection, uses the Barbet Still featuring two columns with plates of bubbling bells and two condensers providing refrigeration to help separate the alcohol from the other minor compounds produced in distillation. Cherry, orange peel, mango, papaya, green banana, and a slight hint of oak fill the senses. The tropical fruit basket continues on the palate with the oak trying to gain control. It's not until the finish that the warming oak note compliments the fruit and leaves you wanting more. $82/bottle

Meet the Team:

STEVE VARROW takes the natural progression to a professional yacht broker after spending the last 17 years in the Caribbean as a well known Charter skipper and RYA Instructor. His experience sailing, running and managing crewed yachts has given him a unique insight into the industry, he holds an RYA 200T Ocean license and is an RYA Instructor. He has 5 transatlantic catamaran deliveries as skipper and numerous European, Caribbean and East coast USA trips on his extensive sailing resume including 100,000+ miles of blue water experience, he has a deep technical understanding of all yacht mechanical, hydraulic, electrical and electronic systems and specializes in helping clients navigate through the path to become a yacht owner and owner operator in the charter yacht industry. He is based between the London and the Caribbean and can be contacted by email Steve@virginislandsyachtbroker.com or phone +1 786 246 0809

GEORGE DECSY started his life at sea with a brief spell in the Merchant Marine, learned the ropes sailing the busy waters of the English Channel, he has extensive transatlantic experience as well as thousands of miles logged US coastal waters, Caribbean and the Bahamas, he currently holds an MCA 200T Unlimited and 100T USCG license as well as being an IYT instructor and examiner. Licensed and bonded by the state of Florida as a Yacht Broker, whether you are a seller or looking for your next adventure he is ready to handle your transaction with a professional touch. His specialist fields are classic monohulls and performance cruisers. He is based out of the Fort Lauderdale office and can be contacted by email George@virginislandsyachtbroker.com or phone +1 954 909 3536

GLEN HURD is a Canadian born, American expat who has been based out of the Virgin Islands as a professional USCG Master Captain for 25 years, and calls his world circumnavigating sailing yacht home. Extensive charter yacht management, design, refitting, and outfitting has developed exceptional insight and skill set with intimate knowledge of all boats systems, on a broad range of vessels from power to sail, including most major brands of catamarans from Lagoon, Leopard, Fountaine Pajot, Voyage, to Sunreef's. His diversity ensures an ability to understand and identify particular features and attributes that meet client's individualistic needs and desires. He is based between the US Virgin Islands office and the Mediterranean, and may be contacted directly: glen@virginislandsyachtbroker.com or phone +1 340 474 1759

ANDREW RUTLEDGE Andrew Rutledge has been a full time liveaboard cruiser for the last four years sailing on a Hanse 445 monohull and now a Nautitech 46 open catamaran in the Eastern and Western Caribbean. Growing up racing Coronado 15's with his dad up and down the Pacific Northwest sailing has been a passion since his teen years. After selling his business in 2018 the time to follow a lifelong dream of evading Canadian winters and full time sailing presented itself. Deciding to sell everything to pursue this dream was a big leap of faith so his goal is to help other cruisers buy, sell or upgrade to the yacht of their dreams and live this lifestyle. With his previous experience as a commercial pilot, retail sales, and now being a full time cruiser, the transition to yacht broker brings a lot of his skills together to help other Caribbean Cruisers. He can be contacted by email andrew@virginislandsyachtbroker.com or phone +1 250 417 7055.

Every Mack Sail Is Proudly Made in our Stuart, Florida, Sail Loft

Bristol 47 Project

Our rigging department converted this Hood roller furling mast to a new Schaefer Gamma boom on this Bristol 47 that is currently cruising in the BVI's. Our riggers also built new rod rigging and upgraded all the wiring and new light fixtures to LED. Our sail loft built a new full batten main & code 0 as well as a furling genoa to fit the existing Harken furler. Our extensive experience with off shore cruising boats and furling booms has provided our customers with a great integrated system.
